Dem Conferees Say Ike Policies Stunt U.S. Growth

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic majority on the Senate-Economic Committee charged today that Eisenhower administration policies had stunted the nation's economic growth since 1953.

Describing them as inadequate to meet the nation's needs, the Democrats said the policies also had led to unnecessary unemployment and price increases.

Republicans on the committee fired back that the majority report was "unbalanced and evasive," and "marred by partisanship."

The majority said it would not support removal of the interest ceiling on long-term bonds—one of the President's major requests of the session — unless the administration made "major reforms in fiscal, monetary and debt management policies."

This minority report described as "nothing but political blackmail."

The majority report was peppered with numerous recommendations for alternative policies to those followed by the administration in the last seven years.

One section recommended that the knotty farm problem be met by direct subsidy payments. It said the public will not endure much longer the present crop price support program.

Other recommendations included a major federal aid to education, help for depressed areas, tax revisions, more liberal foreign trade policies and more vigorous antitrust law enforcement.

The report summed up the committee members' views on a year-long $200,000 study of the problems of inflation, unemployment and economic growth.

The study was first suggested by Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) in a speech in December 1958. It has been described in some quarters as the Democratic answer to the administration's hammering at the inflation issue, but Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill), the committee chairman, said he did not want to characterize the report in political terms.

The majority and minority reports are considered certain to get much attention as representing Democratic and Republican views on economic issues in the 1960 campaign.

The majority report said the study had shown that with proper policies, it was possible to achieve the trio of goals—"a high and sustained rate of economic growth, relatively full employment, without creeping or galloping inflation"—which it said the Eisenhower administration had failed to reach.

On growth, the report said the nation's gross national product—the measurement of output of all goods and services—had advanced at the rate of only 2.3 per cent annually since 1953. In the preceding six-year period in the Truman administration, it was 4.6 per cent the report said.

It declared that adoption of wise policies could assure a 4½ per cent rate in the next 15 years. This would mean a $71-billion-dollar output in 1975, more than double the 480 billion of 1959, it noted.

The Republicans countered that dates in the majority report were "invariably and obviously juggled to put the worst possible light on the record of the present administration and exalt the record of previous Democratic administrations."

Figures cited for the Truman era, they noted, covered the big resurgence after World War II and much of the Korean War period.

Wednesday Set for Look At Crash Site

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Navy divers plan to drop into the Gulf of Mexico Wednesday to look at an object officials hope is the remains of an airliner that crashed Nov. 16 and killed 42 persons.

Sounding apparatus located the object in several hundred feet of water off the Louisiana coast. But experts said it could be the hull of an old ship and not the wreckage of the National Airlines DC7B. If it proves to be the plane, investigators will try to raise it. They want to know whether it bled away to the plane before it plunged into the Gulf.

The USS Penguin, a 60-foot submarine vessel, and another Navy vessel, the Vigor, fitted with sonar equipment were headed for the presumed crash site.

The searchers also will be looking for bodies. Only 13 have been recovered.

Robert Vernon Spears of Dallas, Tex., was listed as a heavily insured passenger on the plane. But the 65-year-old naturopath turned up alive last week in Phoenix, Ariz. The FBI said Spears took out $100,000 flight insurance in his own name and had blasting equipment in his luggage when he was arrested.

Spears' wife has said her husband told her his place on the plane was taken by an old friend, William Allen Taylor, 60, of Tampa, Fla.

Spears was arrested for driving Taylor's car from Tampa to Phoenix. He is being held on a charge of interstate transportation of a stolen car.

Humphrey May Seek No. 2 Spot on Ohio Dem Ballot

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) may ask Ohio Gov. Michael V. DiSalle to make him his second choice for the Democratic presidential nomination.

This, it is understood, may well be what Humphrey has in mind as he flies to Columbus today to discuss with DiSalle his hopes of finding delegate strength in Ohio.

The idea, an observer close to the situation says, would be this: Humphrey wouldn't go into Ohio to compete for delegates if he had an understanding that DiSalle would shift delegate strength to him if his first choice, Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), obviously can't win.

Another alternative — assuming he does anything at all—would be for Humphrey to compete for just a partial slate of Ohio delegates in areas where he thinks he might win.

Some of his backers have been taking soundings on his chances. One is Joe Glazer of Akron, a United Rubber Workers official. Humphrey probably will see Glazer in Columbus today.

Tonight, Humphrey will dine with the Ohio Pastors Convention and make a speech on disarmament. Then he goes to the governor's mansion where he will be DiSalle's overnight guest.

His final intentions concerning Ohio, he has announced, will be made plain in a statement Wednesday morning, shortly before he returns to Washington.

Another political development here—or rather lack of development—is that Sen. Stephen M. Young (D-Ohio) still has not been advised he will be a delegate for Kennedy on his (Young's) terms.

Young wrote DiSalle last week he would be a delegate only on condition he could become a free agent after it appeared Kennedy wouldn't be the nominee.

DiSalle said in Ohio he has agreed to that with Young, but Young says he has not heard from him on this point.

Cleric Urges Global Crew On Spaceship

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The first ship to fly into outer space should be manned by representatives of the world, not just one country, a prominent theologian says.

The statement came from Dr. Gerald C. Brauer during his talk on the space age before the 41st annual Ohio Pastors Convention here Monday.

Dr. Brauer is dean of the Federated Theological Faculty of the University of Chicago and an ordained pastor of the United Lutheran Church of America.

He suggested that the United States propose to Russia that a cooperative effort be made to put the first man into space.

He told nearly 2,000 pastors that man entering space "could be the most momentous occurrence since mankind learned to use languages. It would be 'more cataclysmic' than the Industrial Revolution or the discovery of the New World, he added.

Kennedy, Humphrey Eye West Virginia Primary

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) and Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) are ready to enter West Virginia's May 10 primary — provided the other one does too.

Both candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination have said they will run here if there is opposition. The filing deadline is Feb. 6.

Box Social Program Ready At CHS Tomorrow Evening

Residents throughout Pickaway County today were preparing for tomorrow night's Box Social, first event of the county Sesquicentennial celebration.

The Box Social is planned for 6:30 p. m. in the social rooms at Circleville High School.

This strictly social event launches a program-filled year of events commemorating the 150th anniversary of the founding of Pickaway County.

Ladies will pack boxes of food to be auctioned to the highest bidder, just like the socials in days of quilting bee and barn-raising. Every Pickaway County resident is invited. There is no admission charge.

Today Dr. G. D. Phillips and Mrs. Clark Will, co-chairmen of the event, said, "Everyone is welcome. Bring a couple of boxes to be auctioned and join the festivities. Young and old are invited to recapture part of the old-fashioned spirit of neighborliness and jollity."

The committee has attempted to invite especially the oldest living native of Pickaway County now living in each township and incorporated village throughout the county. They will be introduced and the oldest county native present will light a birthday

DeGaulle Warns Algeria Fuss Perils Nation

PARIS (AP) — Premier Michel Debre warned Frenchmen today that "all can be lost" if order is not established and maintained in Algeria.

Debre issued the warning in an official statement after his return from a middle-of-the-night visit to Algiers, where French insurgents still occupy the heart of the city.

It was a clear warning to Frenchmen that right-wing extremists are threatening the future of France "unless they abandon their stubborn uprising."

The insurgent die-hards were reported to have been promised the French army will not shoot them out of their barricades. But Debre declared the policy of self-determination for Algerians stands.

Nothing has happened that will deter pursuit of the aim of President Charles de Gaulle's administration to let Algeria's nine million North Africans decide their own future, he said.

The French Press Agency said De Gaulle's military commander and civil representative in Algeria had promised the army will not fire on the insurgents.

The agency quoted Echo d'Alger, an Algiers newspaper, as saying Gen. Maurice Challe, army commander, and Paul Delouvrier, De Gaulle's representative in the territory, gave the assurance in a meeting with City Council members.

The council members were reported to have asked the two Paris representatives not to use force against the insurgents dug in behind the barricades.

Word of the development came after Premier Michel Debre returned to Paris from a middle-of-the-night visit to Algiers.

There were unconfirmed reports in Paris that both Delouvrier and Challe had warned Debre they would resign if ordered to use force against the insurgents.

Debre appeared at the presidential palace at noon for a meeting with De Gaulle.

Debre — his moves cloaked in secrecy since Monday when President de Gaulle's government dispatched him on the trouble-shooting mission—arrived in the tense North African city Monday night, French army headquarters for Algiers announced.

His plane whisked him back to Paris again before the sleeping populace was aware of his presence.

The communique said Debre had conferred with Gen. Maurice Challe, commander in chief in Algeria, and Delouvrier, as De Gaulle's representative in the territory. It was reported he also conferred with 10 Algiers parliamentary deputies.

The 10 Algiers deputies are expected to come to Paris later today to continue the talks.

Meanwhile, both sides—the 1,000 to 3,000 insurgents and the paratroopers who ringed them—held their fire in the hope there would be a peaceful solution.

But a crowd of nearly 5,000 massed before a statue of Joan of Arc in downtown Algiers early today in a demonstration of their sympathy for the embattled insurgents.

The demonstrators moved out after the insurgents asked for a show of solidarity.

India Celebrates 10-Year Freedom

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—India celebrated its 10 years of independence today with pomp but with problems looming at home and troubles lurking over the Himalayas.

It was exactly 30 years ago that Jawaharlal Nehru, then a 40-year-old insurgent, moved the resolution in the Congress party's annual convention declaring India's goal was complete freedom from Britain.

It was Nehru, on the same date 21 years later, who inaugurated a republican constitution. The British had left 31 months earlier, on Aug. 15, 1947.

Today President Rajendra Prasad takes the salute at a three-mile-long process which will end at the red sandstone fort which housed Mogul imperial headquarters in India 300 years ago.

Carts drawn by camels, bullocks and elephants will jog along the seven-mile route while jet aircraft swoosh above.

During the 10 years of republican rule, the whole country, from the Himalayas to the Indian Ocean, has come under one flag with the pensioning of 600 princelings.

India has become one of the most stable nations in Asia. It has conducted two free national elections. A second five-year plan is nearing completion and in 15 months a third five-year plan is to start.

But India still has a long way to go to achieve economic and social freedoms. Effective brakes have yet to be applied to reduce her population growth of about five million annually. She still has a chronic food deficiency.

Referring to Red China as "one of our neighbors," President Prasad in a broadcast Monday night reiterated his government's determination to have the border problem with Red China settled through negotiations, despite "provocations (from across the border) and rising popular resentment (within India)."

Official sources said one of the listeners to Prasad's broadcast was Soviet President Klementi Voroshilov, here on an official visit.

Lake Water Use Denied

State Turns Down Wilmington Interests

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Department of Natural Resources today turned down a request to take water from Cowan Lake for use in the city of Wilmington and at Clinton County AFB.

The artificial lake is under the jurisdiction of the department's Division of Parks.

Clinton County Water Co. of Wilmington made the request, which was opposed by fishing and boating enthusiasts who feel recreational activities might be harmed.

Herbert B. Eagon, department director, announced the decision after receiving recommendations from the Parks Division and the Division of Water, which made a study of the situation.

The company had estimated that the air base would need 500 million gallons a year by 1970 and Wilmington about 250 million gallons.

"Experience indicates that water demands frequently exceed estimates," Eagon said. "Even if this should not be the case, the estimated draw-down of the lake as computed by our engineers, could adversely affect its recreational values."

The company had suggested that it might be possible to construct additional storage facilities and a separate system to serve the air base. But Eagon said the lake is designed primarily for recreation and that even these alternatives would not justify taking water from it.

Wilkin Seeks District Seat

Lowell Wilkin, prominent Greenfield industrialist, today announced he will seek the unexpired term of the late James G. Polk, Sixth Congressional District representative.

Wilkin, a Republican, will seek the GOP nomination in the May 3 primary. He is president of the Wilkin Hosiery Co.

The 46-year-old Harvard University graduate served two terms on the Greenfield City Council and eight years on the Greenfield Board of Education.

He is a graduate of Columbus Academy and Ohio State University. Wilkin is a member of the Greenfield Rotary Club, B. P. O. Elks Lodge, Fraternal Order of Eagles, Masons and attends the Methodist Church.

Polk's unexpired term starts November 4 and runs until Jan. 1, 1961.

Cincy Slayer Appeals Verdict

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Frank Poindexter, 49, of Cincinnati, appealed to the Ohio Supreme Court today from his first degree murder conviction in the fatal shooting of Mrs. Herschel Hires in Hamilton last April 10.

The shooting occurred in the Hires' home (650 Franklin St., during an argument between Poindexter's companion, Hollis Leigh, 42, of Cincinnati, and Hires over a roofing job.

Poindexter claimed he fired after Mrs. Hires began shooting from another room.

Poindexter was sentenced to die in Ohio Penitentiary's electric chair this month but received an indefinite stay pending outcome of his appeal. Leigh is serving a life sentence.

But Ike Says Concern Grows

Accusations Called Unfounded Illusions

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today ruled out any United States reprisals at this time against Cuba's Fidel Castro regime.

The President told a news conference the Castro government's anti-American campaign causes concern and perplexes this country.

But, Eisenhower added, the American people still have great affection for the Cubans. The United States, he went on, is not going to be a party to any reprisals against Castro at this moment, and is certainly not going to intervene in Cuba's internal affairs.

Immediately after the news conference.

"The United States government views with increasing concern the tendency of spokesmen of the Cuban government, including Prime Minister Castro, to create the illusion of aggressive acts, and conspiratorial activities aimed at the Cuban government and attributed to United States officials or agencies," it said.

Eisenhower called such accusations "unfounded illusions" and said promotion of them can hardly contribute to good relations between the United States and Cuba.

"We believe these charges to be totally unfounded," the President said.

In a TV broadcast last week, Castro accused the U. S. Embassy of working with opponents of his government. He also denounced Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

After this Castro broadcast, the United States called Ambassador Philip Bonsal home for consultations.

Eisenhower dealt with these other topics in his news conference: "SPACE—The United States, he said, has no reason to bow its head in shame in any comparison of American and Soviet accomplishments in space exploration.

This country has a record in the space field of which it can be proud, the President added, particularly when you take into account that the Soviet Union has been working in that field since 1945.

DEFENSE—The United States has developed better intelligence methods for evaluating the military strength of the Soviet Union. Eisenhower made that remark when asked for comment on what a reporter called assertions by Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr. that the United States now is basing its conclusions on Soviet intentions rather than military capabilities.

Eisenhower replied first of all that he believes the meaning of

Cuban Official Fires Warning At Marines

HAVANA (AP) — Cuba's minister of justice said today "there will be millions of cadavers" if U.S. Marines land in this country.

The televised remarks of the minister, Alfredo Yabar, apparently were in reference to an earlier report by a local radio commentator that 10,000 Marines had landed at the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo in eastern Cuba. Normally a few hundred Marines are stationed there.

The radio commentator's statement could not be confirmed from any source here.

At Norfolk, Va., an Atlantic fleet spokesman denied the report. He said the United States does not have 10,000 Marines in the Caribbean area. He said, however, there had been no change in plans for large-scale amphibious exercises beginning today at Vieques Island, Puerto Rico, about 1,000 miles east of Guantanamo.

"It is insulting to the revolutionary government," Yabar declared, "that at the moment a foreign ambassador offends Cuba, thousands of North American Marines land at the naval base."

Yabar did not identify the ambassador but he apparently meant Spain's Juan Pablo de Lojendio, who was expelled by Prime Minister Fidel Castro last week for interrupting Castro's TV attack on Spain and the United States.

Actress Diana Barrymore Dies

Tragic Struggle Ends For Woman at 38

NEW YORK (AP)—Actress Diana Barrymore, 38, who made her life a tragic struggle to fulfill the mythical promise of her name, died Monday.

Her nude body was found lying face down in bed by a maid at her fashionable East Side apartment.

Her physician said she died of a heart attack but he refused to sign a death certificate because Miss Barrymore had no history of heart trouble. Police started an investigation.

Authorities said there was no indication of suicide. Miss Barrymore, who was trying to make a theatrical comeback after a life of alcoholism, degradation and broken marriages, had once made a suicide attempt.

She told her story in the best-selling autobiography, "Too Much, Too Soon." She was the daughter of the late John Barrymore, whose swashbuckling off stage matched anything he did on stage, and the late Blanche Oelrichs, who wrote plays and poems under the name Michael Strange.

Her aunt was Ethel Barrymore, and her uncle was Lionel Barrymore. Her theatrical ancestry went back four generations in this country and England. Diana Barrymore's name opened for her every door in show business, but when she made headlines it was seldom in the critics' columns.

By 1947, her reputation for drinking and belligerence had closed all doors her name had opened. During her third marriage to Robert Wilcox, she and her husband were arrested for stealing food from a supermarket. One day, Miss Barrymore swallowed 27 sleeping pills with whisky as a chaser. She was found in time to be saved.

After the death of Wilcox in 1955, Miss Barrymore began the long, uphill struggle for a comeback. She wrote her book, including the sordid details of her dissipation. She licked her drinking problem.

She told friends recently, "I have begun to find my way."

Nixon Is Entered In Illinois Poll

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Backers of Vice President Richard M. Nixon have entered his name in the Illinois preferential primary in an effort to attract a large Republican turnout April 12.

It was Nixon's second entry into primary competition. His first was in New Hampshire.

The names of Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) also were filed Monday.

In Washington, Nixon's press secretary, Herbert G. Klein, said the petitions were filed with the vice president's knowledge and consent. Klein said Nixon also plans to seek delegates in Oregon and Ohio primaries.

Courthouse Undergoes Repairs

The Blose Co., Columbus general contractors, yesterday started emergency repairs on fortifying a portion of the Pickaway County courthouse walls.

Recently it was brought to the attention of the County Commissioners that a portion of the courthouse may be settling.

The fireplace in the County Engineer's basement office recently incurred a sizeable crack in the side.

First reports were that the courthouse was settling. Investigation by Blose officials now find that the wall, on both sides of the fireplace, is settling on sand and gravel.

TO DATE Blose laborers, who are digging underneath the wall, have been unable to find any footer supporting the wall.

Only the fireplace has a footer supporting it and that is crumbling. If none is found, Blose will pour footers under the wall on both sides of the fireplace and an additional footer underneath the fireplace.

The Commissioners are at a loss to explain why no footers were laid under the wall originally. It is hoped that these measures will halt further cracking of the fireplace walls.

Present estimates of repair are between $400 and $500. Blose Co. is the same contractor which built the courthouse elevator.

India Celebrates 10-Year Freedom

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—India celebrated its 10 years of independence today with pomp but with problems looming at home and troubles lurking over the Himalayas.

It was exactly 30 years ago that Jawaharlal Nehru, then a 40-year-old insurgent, moved the resolution in the Congress party's annual convention declaring India's goal was complete freedom from Britain.

It was Nehru, on the same date 21 years later, who inaugurated a republican constitution. The British had left 31 months earlier, on Aug. 15, 1947.

Today President Rajendra Prasad took the salute at a three-mile-long process which will end at the red sandstone fort which housed Mogul imperial headquarters in India 300 years ago.

Carts drawn by camels, bullocks and elephants will jog along the seven-mile route while jet aircraft swoosh above.

During the 10 years of republican rule, the whole country, from the Himalayas to the Indian Ocean, has come under one flag with the pensioning of 600 princelings.

India has become one of the most stable nations in Asia. It has conducted two free national elections. A second five-year plan is nearing completion and in 15 months a third five-year plan is to start.

But India still has a long way to go to achieve economic and social freedoms. Effective brakes have yet to be applied to reduce her population growth of about

Tranquilizer Profit Said Penny a Pill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The makers of Miltown tranquilizer said today their profit is a little more than a penny a tablet.

Henry H. Hoyt, president of Carter Products, Inc., said in testimony for the Senate antitrust subcommittee that no reduction would be warranted in the present price of 10 cents a tablet.

The subcommittee is investigating prices charged for various drugs. It contends some of the wonder drugs are priced so high they cannot be bought by persons who need them. Current hearings are devoted to tranquilizer pills.

Miltown is a trade name for meprobamate, a drug for the relief of tension and anxiety. Hoyt said its discovery had helped lift Carter's sales from an annual level of about $550,000 in 1930 when he became president to 48 million dollars in the last fiscal year.

"Substantial profits made in the four years since the introduction of meprobamate have to be considered in relation to the 13 preceding years in which Carter struggled profitlessly to enter the prescription drug field," he said. "It is scarcely reasonable to criticize four years' profits resulting from 17 years' effort."

One Bad Penny Sent after Another

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP) — In 1958 Richard Davis, 40, of Carlisle, Pa., was accused of accepting state unemployment compensation while regularly employed.

He was ordered to make restitution. He began repaying the money but soon fell behind.

His solution, an FBI agent testified Monday, was to again apply for unemployment compensation under false pretenses in order to obtain money to pay off the original debt.

U.S. Dist. Judge Frederick V. Follmer placed Davis on five years' probation and ordered him to repay the total $400 which covers both offenses.

Lake Water Use Denied

State Turns Down Wilmington Interests

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Department of Natural Resources today turned down a request to take water from Cowan Lake for use in the city of Wilmington and at Clinton County AFB.

The artificial lake is under the jurisdiction of the department's Division of Parks.

Clinton County Water Co. of Wilmington made the request, which was opposed by fishing and boating enthusiasts who feel recreational activities might be harmed.

Herbert B. Eagon, department director, announced the decision after receiving recommendations from the Parks Division and the Division of Water, which made a study of the situation.

The company had estimated that the air base would need 500 million gallons a year by 1970 and Wilmington about 250 million gallons.

"Experience indicates that water demands frequently exceed estimates," Eagon said. "Even if this should not be the case, the estimated draw-down of the lake as computed by our engineers, could adversely affect its recreational values."

The company had suggested that it might be possible to construct additional storage facilities and a separate system to serve the air base. But Eagon said the lake is designed primarily for recreation and that even these alternatives would not justify taking water from it.

Wilkin Seeks District Seat

Lowell Wilkin, prominent Greenfield industrialist, today announced he will seek the unexpired term of the late James G. Polk, Sixth Congressional District representative.

Wilkin, a Republican, will seek the GOP nomination in the May 3 primary. He is president of the Wilkin Hosiery Co.

The 46-year-old Harvard University graduate served two terms on the Greenfield City Council and eight years on the Greenfield Board of Education.

He is a graduate of Columbus Academy and Ohio State University. Wilkin is a member of the Greenfield Rotary Club, B. P. O. Elks Lodge, Fraternal Order of Eagles, Masons and attends the Methodist Church.

Polk's unexpired term starts November 4 and runs until Jan. 1, 1961.

Cincy Slayer Appeals Verdict

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Frank Poindexter, 49, of Cincinnati, appealed to the Ohio Supreme Court today from his first degree murder conviction in the fatal shooting of Mrs. Herschel Hires in Hamilton last April 10.

The shooting occurred in the Hires' home (650 Franklin St., during an argument between Poindexter's companion, Hollis Leigh, 42, of Cincinnati, and Hires over a roofing job.

Poindexter claimed he fired after Mrs. Hires began shooting from another room.

Poindexter was sentenced to die in Ohio Penitentiary's electric chair this month but received an indefinite stay pending outcome of his appeal. Leigh is serving a life sentence.

But Ike Says Concern Grows

Accusations Called Unfounded Illusions

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today ruled out any United States reprisals at this time against Cuba's Fidel Castro regime.

The President told a news conference the Castro government's anti-American campaign causes concern and perplexes this country.

But, Eisenhower added, the American people still have great affection for the Cubans. The United States, he went on, is not going to be a party to any reprisals against Castro at this moment, and is certainly not going to intervene in Cuba's internal affairs.

Immediately after the news conference.

"The United States government views with increasing concern the tendency of spokesmen of the Cuban government, including Prime Minister Castro, to create the illusion of aggressive acts, and conspiratorial activities aimed at the Cuban government and attributed to United States officials or agencies," it said.

Eisenhower called such accusations "unfounded illusions" and said promotion of them can hardly contribute to good relations between the United States and Cuba.

"We believe these charges to be totally unfounded," the President said.

In a TV broadcast last week, Castro accused the U. S. Embassy of working with opponents of his government. He also denounced Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

After this Castro broadcast, the United States called Ambassador Philip Bonsal home for consultations.

Eisenhower dealt with these other topics in his news conference: "SPACE—The United States, he said, has no reason to bow its head in shame in any comparison of American and Soviet accomplishments in space exploration.

This country has a record in the space field of which it can be proud, the President added, particularly when you take into account that the Soviet Union has been working in that field since 1945.

DEFENSE—The United States has developed better intelligence methods for evaluating the military strength of the Soviet Union. Eisenhower made that remark when asked for comment on what a reporter called assertions by Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr. that the United States now is basing its conclusions on Soviet intentions rather than military capabilities.

Eisenhower replied first of all that he believes the meaning of

Cuban Official Fires Warning At Marines

HAVANA (AP) — Cuba's minister of justice said today "there will be millions of cadavers" if U.S. Marines land in this country.

The televised remarks of the minister, Alfredo Yabar, apparently were in reference to an earlier report by a local radio commentator that 10,000 Marines had landed at the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo in eastern Cuba. Normally a few hundred Marines are stationed there.

The radio commentator's statement could not be confirmed from any source here.

At Norfolk, Va., an Atlantic fleet spokesman denied the report. He said the United States does not have 10,000 Marines in the Caribbean area. He said, however, there had been no change in plans for large-scale amphibious exercises beginning today at Vieques Island, Puerto Rico, about 1,000 miles east of Guantanamo.

"It is insulting to the revolutionary government," Yabar declared, "that at the moment a foreign ambassador offends Cuba, thousands of North American Marines land at the naval base."

Yabar did not identify the ambassador but he apparently meant Spain's Juan Pablo de Lojendio, who was expelled by Prime Minister Fidel Castro last week for interrupting Castro's TV attack on Spain and the United States.

Van Del Edged In Class A Vote; Teddies Pace AA

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Only one newcomer appeared today in the Class AA and Class A "Top Tens" in the weekly Associated Press high school basketball poll.

And that came in the tenth spot of the Class A ratings where defending state champion Edgerton eased in, ousting Stanton Local from among the elite.

The other big shift also came in the smaller school list where Salem Local of Urbana, winner of 40 of its last 41 and boasting a 13-game victory streak, wrestled the top spot from Van Del of Van Wert County by five point polls.

The Salem Local squad, coached by William Hupp, has only a loss to Lynwood-Jackson in last March's state tourney semifinals marring its two-year record.

The Class A contingent is filled with unbeaten teams except for eighth place New Bremen which saw its 14-game winning streak halted Saturday night by Coldwater 56-50.

Top Ten List Is Unchanged

Cincinnati, Bradley Retain 1-2 Rankings

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The lack of action on college basketball courts last week was reflected in the balloting today as the list of the top 10 teams in The Associated Press ranking poll remained unchanged.

The sports writers and broadcasters again picked Cincinnati as the No. 1 team—overwhelmingly on the basis of first-place votes—but made the Bearcats' only conqueror, Bradley, a close second in the point totals. About the only differences noted among the top 10 were minor changes in the point totals.

Georgia Tech, the only team among the first 10 to lose a game last week, retained its sixth ranking but its margin over seventh-rated Utah was trimmed to a mere 26 points. Villanova strengthened its hold on fourth place but couldn't overtake Utah.

The ratings are based on games through Saturday, Jan. 26.

4 Winter Trades Help Cardinal '9'

By SOLLY HEMUS
Manager, St. Louis Cardinals

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Four winter trades have made the St. Louis Cardinals a better and more interesting club for 1960. We have added power and helped our pitching.

Our pennant chances depend largely upon our young pitchers and upon the new players we have added in trades with the Giants, Phillies, Pirates and Orioles.

We helped our power from the right-handed side of the plate when we added Daryl Spencer and Bob Nieman. We added left-handed power by obtaining Carl Sawatski and Leon Wagner. We certainly improved our pitching by acquiring Ronnie Kline for our starting staff.

I do feel, however, we have hurt ourselves a little bit defensively by giving up Don Blasingame, whom I consider one of the top second basemen in the league, and Gino Cimoli, who is a fine outfielder and got a lot of big hits for us. However, I feel that Curt Flood, with a chance to play regularly in center field, will more than atone for Cimoli's loss and Alex Grammas will do an acceptable job at second base. Young Wally Shannon could figure in that position, too. Our plan is to put Spencer back at shortstop, his original position.

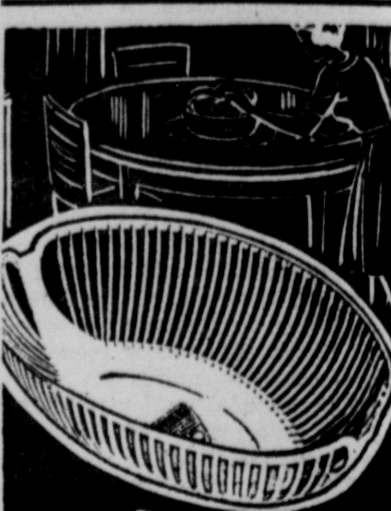

Our biggest weakness last year was out lack of offense. We seemed to get a lot of men on base, but couldn't get the big hit to drive in the big runs. I think that the addition of Spencer, Wagner, Nieman and Sawatski will give us a much better balanced attack than we had last year.

Our club lacks pitching experience but we have the nucleus of a good pitching staff. Our experienced starting pitchers will be Larry Jackson, Vinegar Bend Mizell, and Kline. Bob Gibson, Ernie Broglio and Bob Miller, three promising youngsters, should benefit from last year's experience. The bullpen is well protected by Lindy McDaniel and Bob Duhba, righthander, and Marshall Bridges a lefthander.

We will have a solid lineup. Hal Smith is our No. 1 catcher, along with Sawatski and Darrell Johnson, whom he drafted from Richmond. Our infield situation will depend upon how much Stan Musial will be able to play. Besides Stan at first, we have Bill White and George Crowe. White, of course, will play in the outfield when he's not at first base. We've already discussed second and short. At third we have the best third baseman in the league in Boyer.

I think the team to beat at the present time is San Francisco.

Top Ten List Is Unchanged

Cincinnati, Bradley
Retain 1-2 Rankings

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The lack of action on college basketball courts last week was reflected in the balloting today as the list of the top 10 teams in The Associated Press ranking poll remained unchanged.

The sports writers and broadcasters again picked Cincinnati as the No. 1 team—overwhelmingly on the basis of first-place votes—but made the Bearcats' close conqueror, Bradley, a close second in the point totals. About the only differences noted among the top 10 were minor changes in the point totals.

Georgia Tech, the only team among the first 10 to lose a game last week, retained its sixth ranking but its margin over seventh-ranked Utah was trimmed to a mere 28 points. Villanova strengthened its hold on eighth place but couldn't overtake Utah.

The ratings are based on games through Saturday, Jan. 26. The top 10 based on 10 points for first, 9 for second, etc., with first place votes in parentheses:

1. Cincinnati (76) 1,471
2. Bradley (19) 1,339

4 Winter Trades Help Cardinal '9'

By SOLLY HEMUS
Manager, St. Louis Cardinals

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Four winter trades have made the St. Louis Cardinals a better and more interesting club for 1960. We have added power and helped our pitching.

Our pennant chances depend largely upon our young pitchers and upon the new players we have added in trades with the Giants, Phillies, Pirates and Orioles.

We helped our power from the right-handed side of the plate when we added Daryl Spencer and Bob Nieman. We added left-handed power by obtaining Carl Sawatski and Leon Wagner. We certainly improved our pitching by acquiring Ronnie Kline for our starting staff.

I do feel, however, we have hurt ourselves a little bit defensively by giving up Don Blasingame, whom I consider one of the top second basemen in the league, and Gino Cimoli, who is a fine outfielder and got a lot of big hits for us. However, I feel that Curt Flood, with a chance to play regularly in center field, will more than atone for Cimoli's loss and Alex Grammas will do an acceptable job at second base. Young Wally Shannon could figure in that position, too. Our plan is to put Spencer back at shortstop, his original position.

Our biggest weakness last year was our lack of offense. We seemed to get a lot of men on base, but couldn't get the big hit to drive in the big runs. I think that the addition of Spencer, Wagner, Nieman and Sawatski will give us a much better balanced attack than we had last year.

Our club lacks pitching experience but we have the nucleus of a good pitching staff. Our experienced starting pitchers will be Larry Jackson, Vinegar Bend Mizell, and Kline. Bob Gibson, Ernie Broglio and Bob Miller, three promising youngsters, should benefit from last year's experience. The bullpen is well protected by Lindy McDaniel and Bob Duhla.

U.S. Setting Up World Group To Help Trade

Future Economic War With Red Nations Said To Be Feared

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—The United States is trying an old device—setting up another international organization—to head off one trade war it fears and to get in better shape to fight another one it is warned to expect in the future.

The future economic war would be with the Soviet Union and possibly Red China. The immediate threat is a squabble between two trading blocs in Western Europe which could hurt American and Canadian business.

The urgency of the U.S. attempts to stave off the trade war with and within Europe is dramatized by the loss of 3 1/2 billion dollars of U.S. gold, one result of the two-year total loss of 7 1/2 billion dollars in trade with other countries.

The United States wants a referee for the foreign trade game to prevent any clipping and restore amity if possible.

The referee would be a 20-nation economic organization. America and Canada would belong. The Inner Six and the Outer Seven would belong. Others invited are Elre, Greece, Iceland, Spain, and Turkey.

Washington wants Japan to be asked in later. And it's also keeping an eye out for signs of hurt feelings in Latin America where other trade blocs are taking shape.

The Inner Six, or Common market, and the Outer Seven are at odds on how the Western European market should be handled. But each agrees it should be for European own advantage primarily, with the dollar area getting secondary consideration.

The Inner Six—Germany, France, Italy, The Netherlands, Belgium, and Luxembourg—are aimed at eventual economic merger, with no tariff barriers among the six and a common tariff against outsiders. The Outer Seven—Britain, Switzerland, Austria, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, and Portugal—seek to lower barriers among members and get concessions from the Common Market but has no plan yet for a common front against the rest of the world.

American businessmen see trouble ahead if the new organization can't patch things up. They fear a new loss of European markets, which in most of the postwar years were strictly limited to American goods.

In the last two years more dollars have gone abroad—for goods and services, for foreign aid, for travel for building American plants overseas—than have come back in payment for American goods.

The 20-nation organization would try to close the gap between the Inner Six and the Outer Seven, although at the moment this looks like a stiff chore.

Borrowed Passport Holder Is Killed

KINGSTON, Jamaica ()—Authorities said today one of 37 victims of a Colombian airliner crash last week was traveling on the passport of a friend, who erroneously was reported killed in the crash.

The man killed was Mario Campasano of Bogota, who boarded the plane in New York. The man still alive is Campasano's friend, Jaime Ruiz of Bogota, listed as dead in the first casualty reports.

Authorities said Campasano borrowed Ruiz's passport and inserted his own picture so as to travel home to Bogota to visit relatives.

The Irish Free State was set up in 1922.

Business conducted at the meeting consisted of a donation to the "March of Dimes", purchasing necessary dishes for the dining room, and a banquet to be held in place of a carry-in dinner. The date for the banquet will be selected by C. E. Mahaffey and Benis Lutz and announced at the February meeting.

Following the meeting, Mrs. Frank Morrison prepared and read the story, "Ask Grandmother, She Knows". This part of the program was built around the Pickaway County Sesquicentennial which will be celebrated this year. Harford Renick, president of the Pickaway County Historical Society, reviewed the background of the history of our county which concluded the program.

No Guessing On Red Power

Defense Aide Says U.S. Actually 'Knows'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr. says that the revised U.S. evaluation of military intelligence about the Soviet Union is based on actual knowledge of Soviet capabilities, not guesses as to its intentions.

Gates, who touched off a wide discussion on the subject with his testimony before a House Defense Appropriations subcommittee last week, indicated he feels his earlier remarks have been misinterpreted.

"We have never been relying on what their intentions will be in reference to specific actions," Gates told the House Committee on Science and Astronautics, now reviewing the U.S. space program.

"Our intelligence information has improved. We have better information available on a variety of subjects from a variety of sources. We have a refined and better set of facts, and from them we have a more refined and better understanding of what the Russian intercontinental ballistic missile program may be."

Gates did not state flatly that his position on the changed method of evaluating intelligence has been misinterpreted. But when asked if the United States is now basing its estimates on Soviet intentions, rather than capabilities, he replied: "Some are interpreting it that way."

Gates repeated his conviction that the basic U.S. defense position is strong enough to discourage any aggression. Granting Soviet superiority in rocket boosters, he told the committee: "Missiles are only one way of doing this terrible thing. We have a number of ways."

The Gates testimony was another round in the continuing debate over whether the Soviet Union will have more ready-to-go missiles than this country in any period through 1963, and what the answer to that question means.

Was Carole A Witness Against Self?

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Was Carole Tregoff a witness against herself the day she was charged with murder?

Her defense attorneys are trying to prove it—in hopes the Fifth Amendment may help them win her freedom.

Miss Tregoff—at first receptionist to a wealthy physician and later his mistress—was arrested July 29 after she told a preliminary hearing her story on the night the doctor's wife was killed.

Carole, 23, and Dr. R. Bernard Finch, 42, are on trial on charges of murder and conspiracy for the July 18 death of Barbara Jean Finch, 36.

The prosecutor who is seeking to prove her guilty took the stand for the state Monday to tell about Miss Tregoff's arrest.

Under searching cross examination, Deputy Dist. Atty. Fred N. Whitchello admitted that at no time at the preliminary hearing had Miss Tregoff been informed of her constitutional rights.

Defense attorneys have battled bitterly against every attempt to introduce Miss Tregoff's earlier testimony into evidence. They claim the portion of the Fifth Amendment which bars a person from being a witness against himself was violated.

U.S. Bond Chain Letters Making Rounds in SW Ohio

CINCINNATI (AP)—An illegal enterprise is making the rounds of the tri-state area again. It's the sale of government bonds through chain letters.

Instead of the top name on the chain letter getting cash, he is supposed to be showered with 25 government bonds.

In an effort to get around postal regulations on chain letters, the chain list is sold to a new member for $37.50.

The new member must buy one $25 bond and mail it to the top name listed in his letter. Then he adds his own name to the list and sells his letter to another new member for $37.50.

Those who take part in this venture are indulging in a lottery illegal at both state and federal levels, officials warn.

For one thing, bond purchase for this use and mailing of bonds are both illegal acts, says R. A. Vanlieu, Cincinnati postal inspector.

The Cincinnati Better Business Bureau said it has been swamped with calls from people in Hamilton County and northern Kentucky who were approached under the scheme.

"This is a fraud and also a lottery. We would like to get our hands on one of the letters so we could show them to the public," a spokesman said.

The First National Bank of Franklin sold an unusually high total of $15,587 in bonds in 30 days over the holiday.

After studying the matter with police and postal inspectors, bank officials decided to ban sales of bonds for obvious chain letter purposes.

The bond scheme is not new. It started in the summer of 1957 and revived last March with a "March of Bonds" label.

In 1958 some auto dealers used the gimmick to try to sell more cars. The buyer of a new car got a discount if he recommended a friend for a new car.

In 1954 there was a $10 club in which a person who reached the top of a listing in the letters was supposed to get $10 bills from 1,024 persons.

Chain letters are not restricted to cash. Several years ago, a fish bait chain was started in which you sent letters to five friends and asked them to send the top name a fishing lure.

Others involve gifts of whisky, handkerchiefs of other minor items.

Some even started prayer chains. You were to send a certain prayer to five friends and if the chain was not broken you would continue in health and prosperity the rest of your life.

The chain letter was the idea of a man in Denver in 1935 who wanted to end the Depression, records indicate.

He sent letters saying: "Send a dime to the name at the top of the list and mail copies of this letter to five friends."

If everyone followed directions, the person whose name reached the top would have received $1,562.50 for his 10 cent investment.

The idea caught on in those days of mass unemployment. "Send a dime and help redistribute the wealth," was the call.

One Denver businessman said he received 2,300 chain letters and said: "I can't answer them. They are delaying my legitimate business correspondence."

Arkansas Law To Get Review

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court today agreed to hear an appeal attacking validity of an Arkansas law requiring public school teachers to list all organizations to which they have belonged in the preceding five years.

Negroes attacking the law contend it is aimed at the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

The law, enacted by a special session of the Legislature in 1958, says no person may be employed as a teacher unless an affidavit listing the organizations is submitted to school officials.

No Bond To Be Allowed In Warren Vice Cases

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—No bond for persons arrested after court hours on gambling, vice, manslaughter and felony charges is the policy announced by Municipal Judge Ames A. Ravella. The judge said persons arrested in the court's jurisdiction on such charges will not be released on bond until after being arraigned in court. Those arrested after court hours will have to stay overnight in jail.

U.S. Setting Up World Group To Help Trade

Future Economic War With Red Nations Said To Be Feared

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The United States is trying an old device — setting up another international organization — to head off one trade war it fears and to get in better shape to fight another one it is warned to expect in the future.

The future economic war would be with the Soviet Union and possibly Red China. The immediate threat is a squabble between two trading blocs in Western Europe which could hurt American and Canadian business.

The urgency of the U.S. attempts to stave off the trade war with and within Europe is dramatized by the loss of 3 1/2 billion dollars of U.S. gold, one result of the two-year total loss of 7 1/2 billion dollars in trade with other countries.

The United States wants a referee for the foreign trade game to prevent any clipping and restore amity if possible.

The referee would be a 20-nation economic organization. America and Canada would belong. The Inner Six and the Outer Seven would belong. Others invited are Eire, Greece, Iceland, Spain, and Turkey.

Washington wants Japan to be asked in later. And it's also keeping an eye out for signs of hurt feelings in Latin America where other trade blocs are taking shape.

The Inner Six, or Common Market, and the Outer Seven are at odds on how the Western European market should be handled. But each agrees it should be for European own advantage primarily, with the dollar area getting secondary consideration.

The Inner Six — Germany, France, Italy, The Netherlands, Belgium, and Luxembourg — are aimed at eventual economic merger, with no tariff barriers among the six and a common tariff against outsiders. The Outer Seven — Britain, Switzerland, Austria, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, and Portugal — seek to lower barriers among members and get concessions from the Common Market but has no plan yet for a common front against the rest of the world.

American businessmen see trouble ahead if the new organization can't patch things up. They fear a new loss of European markets, which in most of the postwar years were strictly limited to American goods.

In the last two years more dollars have gone abroad—for goods and services, for foreign aid, for travel for building American plants overseas—than have come back in payment for American goods.

The 20-nation organization would try to close the gap between the Inner Six and the Outer Seven, although at the moment this looks like a stiff chore.

Borrowed Passport Holder Is Killed

KINGSTON, Jamaica () — Authorities said today one of 37 victims of a Colombian airliner crash last week was traveling on the passport of a friend, who erroneously was reported killed in the crash.

The man killed was Mario Campasano of Bogota, who boarded the plane in New York. The man still alive is Campasano's friend, Jaime Ruiz of Bogota, listed as dead in the first casualty reports.

Authorities said Campasano borrowed Ruiz's passport and inserted his own picture so as to travel home to Bogota to visit relatives.

The Irish Free State was set up in 1922.

Foreign Aid Critics Rapped

Ike Says 'Give-Away' Claimants Ignorant

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said here that criticism of the administration's foreign aid program as a give-away plan indicates abysmal ignorance.

In an informal talk at a breakfast meeting of the National Assn. of Real Estate Boards, the President also spoke out in defense of his plans for a balanced budget in the fiscal year starting July 1.

Eisenhower told his audience of about 1,000 at a downtown hotel they have an obligation to familiarize themselves with the issues which face the United States.

He spoke of the need to curb inflation and avoid debasement of the dollar.

Some individuals, the President went on, are "going along in a sort of cloud believing that one (political) party or another party has all the virtues and the others none."

He added that such people are "completely uninterested, particularly if registering or taking part in political action interferes with their golf or their shooting or any other recreation."

That remark from Eisenhower, who both golfs and hunts, drew a laugh.

As for the administration's controversial foreign aid program, the President noted that it often is criticized as a give-away plan. "Nothing is more indicative of abysmal ignorance," Eisenhower said.

If the United States abandons the people of free nations which need help, Eisenhower said, "we are going to have to pay the bill" in currency costing much more than dollars.

Homework Still Essential

Parents and school administrators who wonder about how much homework should be assigned young pupils may be consoled by the fact that this seems to be a problem in other communities, too. Denver is having a hassle on the subject right now.

It started back in 1953 when a citywide survey made it clear that Denver parents did not agree with the school's policy at that time of "no homework" in grade school. The Denver school system obliged. Now the complaint is arising in some quarters that there is too much homework.

Proponents of homework say it develops work habits and skills, independence, and ability to do research. But opponents contend homework can create a dislike, even hostility, for a given subject or teacher. It can even lead to copying and dishonesty.

Up to now the Denver debate has involved the grade schools. Now it is likely to arise at the intermediate level. A report made by a teachers' committee after three years of study has been turned down by the executive board of the school district's committee on instructional policy.

The executive board has asked for revisions in the study time recommended for specific levels and for suggestions on how teachers can ease the transition for pupils moving from grade school to junior high. Homework rules may be revised and altered from time to time, but it is doubtful whether schools which encouraged little or no homework in pre-sputnik days will return to that plan.

Paying Taxes 'Can Be Enjoyable'

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — "Paying income taxes doesn't have to be a painful ordeal," said Richard Bloch. "It can be enjoyable — even fun — if you know how to make it so."

This year Bloch, 33, and his older brother, Henry, 36, will help some 200,000 Americans pay their annual tribute to Uncle Sam as painlessly as possible.

They are pioneers in a mushrooming new field—the field of tax consultation to the masses. Shortly after World War II the two brothers launched an accounting firm in Kansas City, Mo. It prospered. One of the services the pair offered their clients was assistance in filling out their income taxes. This began to take more and more of their time.

"One night we got to wondering who helped ordinary American fill out their income tax returns and whether there might not be a mass market there," said Dick.

The brothers checked and found perhaps some 300,000 tax consultants helped part of the 60-million-plus U.S. taxpayers prepare their returns. But they ranged from high-priced lawyers to neighborhood druggists and barbers who charged $2 fees.

In 1955 they launched what is now the country's largest chain-store-type of income tax consultation. Today they have 1,000 employees who man 108 offices in 46 cities and gross two million dollars annually. Their goal is 1,000 offices.

Their clients include housewives, retired doctors, airplane pilots, small-businessmen, and a tremendous number of Internal Revenue Service workers.

Their fee depends on the complexity of the return. The highest they have ever charged is $500. But the fee for a $500,000-a-year steel executive was $12.50, half of the fee for a $750,000-a-year average is less than $10.

Most of the brothers' employees are accountants, and they go through an intensive two-week training course after being hired. Weekly bulletins alert them to new tax changes.

The company guarantees the accuracy of its returns, agrees to pay any penalty or interest charges resulting from its own errors, and appears free with its clients if the government audits any returns. Its proudest boast is that none of its returns has ever wound up in a tax court.

The two brothers are as adept at psychology as they are on the U.S. income tax structure. Every office is wired with soothing music, and each client is served with free coffee.

"His nerves are usually on edge," explained Dick. "He's tense. Paying taxes is not a pleasant thing to him, unless you can make it pleasant."

"But if you can relax him, you can get the needed figures from him in half the time."

Gamble, Victim of Money

By George Sokolsky

Gamble Benedict spoke feelingly about her loneliness. Wealth is, of course, only for adults. Children do not wear diamonds or minks; they crave to be clothed in love. When love is absent, the child lives in fear and hopelessness. That is the curse of the broken home and Gamble Benedict did not even have a broken home. She was a very poor girl, much poorer than those who are called underprivileged.

This girl understands her life, for this is what she said:

"A girl like me — lonely all of her life, always dealing with the same Social Register kind of people — suddenly meets someone like Andre..."

Well, Andre is a chauffeur but he can talk about something different than little gossip about small people with lots of money. To a child, what is this money, but prejudice and narrowness, like the bars of a prison? Do not talk to this child; her mother is not in the Social Register. Don't talk to that one; her father works for a living. You must go to the right school. It may be a dull, stupid school made for little snobs who only talk to other little snobs. Gamble says of this:

"We're pushed into socially acceptable schools."

"We're told what we must do, an very often we never thought of doing it until we were told this was bad."

But suppose a child is by nature not a snob. Suppose she is a decent, outgoing child, then even an ambitious child, then Gamble says the child is taken to a psychiatrist.

The most interesting fact about all this is that the social milieu which surrounds these children is not an aristocratic one. Their parents and grandparents cannot produce centuries of great families who served their country, such as the Cecils of England or the Adamses or Byrds in the United States. Most often they cannot trace their ancestry farther than a generation or two back to a factory worker or a store-keeper or maybe even a politician.

In a word, all they can point to is an accumulation of money which, while it can buy things, cannot buy love or respect. Gamble says:

"I wanted to study classical ballet, for instance. I was told it was not nice enough. Also, it was supposed to be bad for my figure. Last year, I managed on my own money to take some dancing lessons at $15 an hour. I loved music and wanted to study it seriously when I became a little older. But I was not allowed to on the pretext that I had refused to play the piano when I was a child."

I know several girls who knew Gamble when she was at school and I can see this child's life through children's eyes and am not surprised that she ran off. Nothing could be surprising about a child who was raised to regard herself and her environment as superior when it was impossible for her not to recognize that it was poor, dull, boorish, based not upon culture and gentleness and love of mankind but on the accumulation of money.

New York provides a particularly difficult place for snobs. Young people see through phonies. All the defrocked royalty, the numerous titled folks from centuries which do not honor titles, the fraudulent aristocrats who work as touts for dress-makers and restaurants and all kinds of agencies — the children learn about them from servants, just as they learn all about the illicit relationships of their parents in the kitchen talk or the talk of the maids and governesses who walk the children in the park as others walk their dogs.

LAFF-A-DAY

"You can just forget it. NOBODY is going to see me looking like this!"

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

DENNIS DAY admits most people who visit Las Vegas come there to gamble. "There are exceptions, of course," he adds. "Some wholesome, clean-living folk drop in to see the lavish floor shows, drink nothing more potent than ginger ale, go beddie-bye by ten, and spend their days golfing or boating on nearby Lake Meade. Let me assure you that the Vegas people do everything in their power to get rid of this undesirable element!"

The question that probably had the most far-reaching consequences in history was the innocent sounding, "Helen, do you think anybody would be particularly concerned if I ran you over to Troy?"

Coronary Terms Defined

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.
Everyone has heard of coronary heart disease, but how many of you know what it is?

Such terms as coronary sclerosis, coronary thrombosis, myocardial infarction and angina pectoris, probably puzzle most of you every time you read or hear about them.

Well, without going into a long medical lecture, maybe I can straighten you out about some of these perplexing terms right now.

Coronary heart disease is the most frequent cause of death from heart attacks for persons of middle age and beyond. It's the type of heart attack that kills so many prominent persons — actors, businessmen, political and civic leaders — and often needlessly.

The heart muscle gets its blood supply from only two arteries, on each side. These two arteries form sort of a crown around the heart and it is from this that the name coronary developed.

Both coronary sclerosis and angina pectoris actually are coronary troubles, although angina often is classed as a separate disease because it causes extreme, but temporary, pain.

Literally, angina pectoris means a strangling in the chest. And that's just what an attack feels like. Such attacks are caused by exercise, exertion, excitement or just about any situation in which the blood flow through the coronary arteries is inadequate.

Coronary sclerosis means that the arteries are becoming hard, less elastic and narrower. This condition generally occurs with advancing age. Naturally, as this process progresses, a portion of the heart muscle fails to get sufficient blood and becomes weakened.

Coronary thrombosis is the actual heart attack. It smashes the victim like a hammer, but it doesn't always kill. In fact, four out of five persons survive their first attack. A person may have one attack and never have another one.

It occurs when a blood clot blocks a coronary artery or one of its thousands of branches, thus depriving the heart of a portion of its vital blood supply.

Myocardial infarction is a result of coronary thrombosis. This term refers to the changes which take place in the area of the heart deprived of its blood supply. Muscle fibers may be destroyed but, even if this occurs, they are replaced by scar tissue which becomes fairly strong within a month. In time, healing may be complete.

The doctor assured me that all the cancer was removed.

If that was true, could I still develop cancer in some other organ?

Answer: Most physicians regard that, as a rule, a five-year period of freedom from evident recurrence following cancer surgery is a "cure".

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The year 1960 started off with a grand snafu on how this country compares militarily with the Soviet Union. It probably is the result of a not-too-clear explanation by Thomas S. Gates Jr., secretary of defense.

Gates and the Eisenhower administration, after his testimony before several congressional committees, were accused by critics of trying to paint a too-rosy picture of American defenses in this election year.

What Gates actually meant to say seems to come down to this: Although the Soviet Union is working hard on intercontinental ballistic missiles, the administration doubts the U.S.S.R. would start a war because this country's own defenses are strong enough to discourage an attack.

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.), chairman of the Senate's Armed Services Committee, after listening to Gates and Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, said last week: "At present I think we are strong enough to prevent any attack, except by a madman."

A novice in defense matters, in order to understand what the present fuss is about, must keep a certain distinction clearly in mind: The difference between missile development.

The Soviets are definitely ahead of this country in space development. Gates' predecessor, former Secretary Neil H. McElroy, said as late as Dec. 2 this country will lag behind the Soviet Union in military ICBMs for at least three years.

But he said, just before his retirement, this nation has enough striking power in other forms to offset the military missile gap. For the next three years, he added, this country would rely heavily on the B52 bomber.

As of today, he said, the United States and the Soviet Union have about the same number of ICBMs — a very small number. But he added that in the next few years Soviet production would outstrip this country's.

Although he said last July that the Soviet Union had fewer than 10 ICBMs capable of hitting the United States, not long afterwards Premier Nikita Khrushchev said a Soviet plant was turning out 250 missiles a year.

This is how Gates started the mixup with fancy talk before the committees: "Heretofore, we have been giving you intelligence figures that dealt with the theoretical cal Soviet capability. This is the first time that we have had an intelligence estimate that says 'this is what the Soviet union probably will do.'"

Democrats in Congress blasted this kind of talk. Gates seemed to be talking a kind of guessing-game about Soviet intentions. That could be interpreted as mind-reading.

Finally, Monday, Gates tried to untangle his language by explaining: Neither he nor the administration has been trying to guess Soviet intentions in building ICBMs. Even if the Soviets build more ICBMs than this country thinks they will, this country still is strong enough to discourage an attack.

He explained he meant that this country, through a combination of missiles, manned bombers and other advanced weapons has a big enough nuclear counterpunch to discourage an attack.

He was backed up in this by Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff.

On Jan. 12 White said the United States is much stronger than the Soviet Union in military power and may have a slight edge in war missiles. (He apparently didn't mean ICBMs.)

He said the Strategic Air Command now has the "ability to destroy the war-making capacity of any aggressive nation, no matter how powerful, and to achieve military victory."

Sen. Russell said he agreed with Gates and Twining that "we still have the ability to destroy any aggressor who attacks us."

Homework Still Essential

Parents and school administrators who wonder about how much homework should be assigned young pupils may be consoled by the fact that this seems to be a problem in other communities, too. Denver is having a hassle on the subject right now.

It started back in 1953 when a citywide survey made it clear that Denver parents did not agree with the school's policy at that time of "no homework" in grade school. The Denver school system obliged. Now the complaint is arising in some quarters that there is too much homework.

Proponents of homework say it develops work habits and skills, independence, and ability to do research. But opponents contend homework can create a dislike, even hostility, for a given subject or teacher. It can even lead to copying and dishonesty.

Up to now the Denver debate has involved the grade schools. Now it is likely to arise at the intermediate level. A report made by a teachers' committee after three years of study has been turned down by the executive board of the school district's committee on instructional policy.

The executive board has asked for revisions in the study time recommended for specific levels and for suggestions on how teachers can ease the transition for pupils moving from grade school to junior high. Homework rules may be revised and altered from time to time, but it is doubtful whether schools which encouraged little or no homework in pre-sputnik days will return to that plan.

Paying Taxes 'Can Be Enjoyable'

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — "Paying income taxes doesn't have to be a painful ordeal," said Richard Bloch. "It can be enjoyable — even fun — if you know how to make it so."

This year Bloch, 33, and his older brother, Henry, 36, will help some 200,000 Americans pay their annual tribute to Uncle Sam as painlessly as possible.

They are pioneers in a mushrooming new field—the field of tax consultation to the masses.

Shortly after World War II the two brothers launched an accounting firm in Kansas City, Mo. It prospered. One of the services the pair offered their clients was assistance in filling out their income taxes. This began to take more and more of their time.

"One night we got to wondering who helped ordinary American fill out their income tax returns and whether there might not be a mass market there," said Dick. The brothers checked and found perhaps some 300,000 tax consultants helped part of the 60-million-plus U.S. taxpayers prepare their returns. But they ranged from high-priced lawyers to neighborhood druggists and barbers who charged $2 fees.

In 1953 they launched what is now the country's largest chain-store-type of income tax consultation. Today they have 1,000 employees who man 108 offices in 46 cities and gross two million dollars annually. Their goal is 1,000 offices.

Their clients include housewives, retired doctors, airplane pilots, small-businessmen, and "a tremendous number of Internal Revenue Service workers."

Their fee depends on the complexity of the return. The highest they have ever charged is $500. But the fee for a $500,000-a-year steel executive was $12.50, half of the fee for a $7.50 or less, and the average is less than $10. Most of the brothers' employees are accountants, and they go through an intensive two-week training course after being hired. Weekly bulletins alert them to new tax changes.

The company guarantees the accuracy of its returns, agrees to pay any penalty or interest charges resulting from its own errors, and appears free with its clients if the government audits any returns. Its proudest boast is that none of its returns has ever wound up in a tax court.

The two brothers are as adept at psychology as they are on the U.S. income tax structure. Every office is wired with soothing music, and each client is served with free coffee.

"His nerves are usually on edge," explained Dick. "He's tense. Paying taxes is not a pleasant thing to him, unless you can make it pleasant."

"But if you can relax him, you can get the needed figures from him in half the time."

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — The coroner has ruled accidental the Jan. 16 death of Mrs. Patricia Keyes from an overdose of sleeping pills.

Mrs. Keyes, 35, last summer gave state authorities a tape recording concerning alleged gambling activities in Stark County. But the state liquor enforcement director Ivan W. Smith, said a polygraph test, given at Mrs. Keyes' request, indicated her information was not reliable.

Never Upstage Your Hubby, Actor's Wise Wife Advise

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Never try to upstage your husband, advises wise and witty Betty Garrett, and you'll live happily ever after.

Betty is half of a famous husband-and-wife team, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Parks, renowned for both single and double roles on stage, screen, TV and the night club circuit. That they are happily married for more than a decade speaks well for their mutual sense of humor.

"Larry always gets top billing," says Betty. "That's the natural way, I think—the man comes first. You don't speak of Mrs. and Mr. Whoozit—it's always Mr. and Mrs. And that's all right with me."

Larry and Betty currently are co-starred in a new musical comedy, "Beg, Borrow or Steal" scheduled to open in New York in February.

The Parks team has two sons, Andrew Lawrence, 8, and Garrett Christopher, 9. The boys at present are with Betty's mother in Los Angeles, but have been promised an Easter trip to New York if the show is a success.

"If it's a flop," says Parks, "we'll go to Palm Springs."

There has been a lot of talk about the difficulty of having two stars in one family, but Larry does not agree.

"It's better for actors to be married to each other," he says. "No-

Modern Methods Make Laundry Tasks Easier

By ELEANOR ROSS
Modern methods of home care certainly do disprove many old wives' tales and maxims. Especially is this true in the laundry department.

They used to say that boiling was necessary to get clothes clean. Now we know that the only clothes and linens that should be boiled are those that need to be disinfected because of contagious illness in the household.

For ordinary laundry, modern soaps and detergents are so effective, so efficient, that the old-fashioned boiling process is unnecessary.

Then, too, it used to be understood that water had to be piping hot to get clothes clean. Now experts say clothes can be fresh and sparkling even after a cold-water sudsing, due to modern laundering facilities.

Many automatic washers feature short-cycle, cold-water laundering methods for many of the fabrics woven or knit of man-made fibers and provide hotter temperatures and longer cycles for other items.

Frequent washing chases dirt before it has an opportunity to become embedded. And what used to be a wash day is now a wash hour or even minutes.

It is wise to remember that those fabrics that can be damaged by hot water should be laundered often to avoid the need for high temperatures to chase the grime.

Nowadays, soaking clothes, even work clothes, is not necessary. Of course, some homemakers prefer to soak really soiled overalls and work clothes for hours before placing them in the machine. But a half an hour in the suds is usually quite adequate for loosening the dirt, no matter how thick or embedded.

It's been found that an effective pre-treatment does the trick and makes it unnecessary to soak even the grimeiest item. Just massage a thick later into embedded soil areas with fingers or a brush—that's all!

It used to be accepted that frequent washing harmed fabrics. Now it is realized that it's the dirt and perspiration that do the damage to fabrics, and that the longer they remain, the sooner the fabric will wear out. Frequent laundering by proper methods actually helps to preserve clothes and home furnishings.

They used to say that unironed sheets were the sign of sloppy housekeeping. Nowadays, homemakers have learned not to be slaves of the ironing board. By using an automatic dryer or by handling sheets carefully, then tugging them smooth before folding, modern homemakers by-pass the pressing altogether and still have smooth sheets.

Then, of course, there are nylon sheets which require no ironing, ever.

Good Saturday lunch: fried tomatoes with cheese sauce and crisp bacon. Add plenty of buttered toast.

Wear White Or Black To 'Catch a Man'

NEW YORK (AP)—If you want to get your man, wear black or white, advises Ceil Chapman, designer for many of the top glamour of stage, screen and TV.

Following her own advice, she shows a dramatic group of evening gowns in black, white and a combination of the two, guaranteed to make any girl a femme fatale.

The Chapman show climaxed a crowded week of spring fashion previews presented by the New York couture group for 235 editors from all sections of the United States and several foreign countries. It took real designing genius to intrigue a group of woman who had viewed more than 50 fashion shows during the week, starting at 7:30 a.m. and ending at midnight or later. But the astute Ceil turned the trick.

For the new decade, Miss Chapman likes new length for evening dresses, 10 inches from the floor, which she calls the "forecast length." She also shows her "candlelight length," just above the ankle, and plenty of flowing floor-length gowns.

For cocktail and informal evening wear, this designer likes the "beehive" skirt, rounded, draped, and tapering toward the hemline. For afternoon wear she shows a group of brilliant prints. But for cocktail time her love remains black—sculptured and draped to accentuate the lines of the feminine figure.

"The purpose of any dress is to make a man look at a woman—and whistle," says Ceil.

Add caraway seeds to that canned sauerkraut you are heating to serve with franks. Lightly cooked onion strips (in butter) and brown sugar may also season the kraut.

Do you have a problem? For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of this newspaper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Dog Lover Doggone Normal

DEAR ABBY: Please tell me if I am married to a crazy man or not. We are now living in Eugene, Oregon. My husband's Daddy called him from Pine Bluff, Arkansas, last night and told him that Bozo (my husband's dog) died, so my husband drove to Pine Bluff to bury his dog.

Do dogs have funerals, Abby? Bozo was an old dog and my husband raised him from a pup. But in the six years, we've been married my husband has lost several aunts and uncles and he never bothered to go to any of their funerals. What do you think of a man who will start out in the middle of the night to drive half-way across the country to bury a dog?

ONLY A WIFE
DEAR WIFE: A man's devotion for his dog can't be measured in aunts and uncles. Your husband is dog-gone normal.

DEAR ABBY: Maybe I am being petty but I want to get your point of view. What do you do about a woman who always grasps a man's hand (the one in which the match is held) while he lights her cigarette? Both parties are married, but not to each other. The man is my husband and this woman is a free-lance widow. I trust my husband but I don't trust her. I don't want to make a big thing out of this because I don't want to appear jealous. But how should I handle it?

ANNNOYED
DEAR ANNOYED: Simmer down before you get all burned up. The poor soul is probably trying to get a cheap thrill. Ignore the performance. You've got the bonfire and she's getting the sparks.

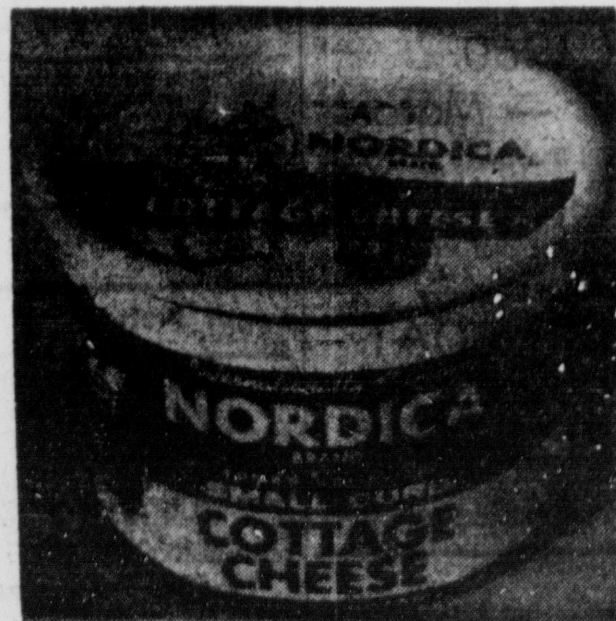

DEAR ABBY: I like a boy and he says he likes me, but listen to this: When I ask him to walk me home, he says he has to stay after school. But five minutes after I get home, I see him walking right past my house. He says he has to do his homework. Then I see him standing around outside doing nothing. He is 14 and so am I. How can I win his love?

DEAR DEE DEE: He's shy, immature, bashful, timid, self-conscious and 14. There is only one cure for this. Wait until he's 15.

Do you have a problem? For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of this newspaper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

WORLD'S LARGEST STEER—Old Pete, claimed by its owner to be the world's largest steer, gives the camera a placid stare on the Buck Buchanan place, Blue Eye, Mo. Old Pete weighs nearly 3,800 pounds, stands more than six feet high and is more than 12 feet long. He is a Charbray. He got that big on grass, not grain, says Buchanan. (Central Press)

Georgia Tech Again Slaps Former Cage King, Kentucky

The Engineers of Georgia Tech are building their first championship season in Southeastern Conference basketball since 1938 by literally tearing down the king, mighty Kentucky.

Faced with a "must game" against the challenging Wildcats at Atlanta Monday night, the Engineers not only beat Kentucky for the second time this season but handed the Wildcats their fourth worst whipping in 729 games under Adolph Rupp's 30-year coaching era, piling up a 65-44 rout to the roars of 7,348 fans.

Since Baron Rupp became the Kentucky coach in 1930 to build basketball's greatest record, only his 89-50 loss to CCNY in 1950, his 101-77 setback by Alabama in 1956 and his 41-20 beating from Notre Dame in 1936 have equaled or topped this one.

It was Tech's sixth straight SEC victory and 15th in 17 games while Kentucky, now 10-5 for the season, is 4-2 in the league it has dominated so long and down to third place, a step behind idle Tulane (3-1). Tech now ranked sixth nationally, beat Kentucky at Lexington 62-54 in their first meeting Jan. 2.

Striking Virginia Tech (12-2) won its eighth in a row, 107-77 over Furman, and Minnesota continued its surprising challenge in the Big Ten with a hot-shooting 87-72 rout of Iowa at Iowa City in other key games on the limited Monday schedule.

Touring Houston, which snapped

the 11-game win streak of Miami (Fla.) Saturday night, was the victim of an upset itself Monday night — blowing a 15-point half-time lead to fall before Loyola of New Orleans 63-61. John Flynn, who had 16 points, hit on his last six shots to trigger the Loyola rally.

Touring Oklahoma City also was spilled in Louisiana, losing to tough, little Centenary 65-58. On the West Coast, Stanford defeated Washington State 67-58 in overtime. Hardin-Simmons and North Texas State had a free-shooting winging, with Hardin-Simmons winning 98-96 in overtime.

Afternoon Baseball Card Is Shrinking

CINCINNATI (AP) — Afternoon baseball, at least the weekday variety, will fade still further out of the picture in the National League this year.

The oldest of the two major leagues announced today a 1960 schedule which includes a record-breaking 312 night contests.

And that total includes games of the Chicago Cubs, the lone major league holdout against night baseball, who play all of their 77 home contests in the daytime.

Except on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, St. Louis and Philadelphia will not play any afternoon games. Cincinnati has only one game and Los Angeles and Pittsburgh two each.

As it shapes up, Los Angeles will play a record-breaking 64 night games, including two twilight dates. Philadelphia will have 52 night dates, St. Louis 48, Cincinnati 45, Pittsburgh 42, Milwaukee 38 and San Francisco 23.

Los Angeles will open the season at night April 12 against Chicago. Philadelphia's home opener April 14 against Milwaukee also will be played at night and so will St. Louis' home opener April 19 against Chicago.

The league's schedule this year will be spread over 174 days instead of the customary 167. The change was made to provide more time for travel and from the West Coast.

Russian Doctor Supply Is High

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An Ohio State University psychiatrist says Russia has a high turnover of patients in its mental hospitals apparently because of a high ratio of doctors to patients.

Dr. Ralph M. Patterson, who recently completed a tour of European psychiatric hospitals, says that in Russian mental hospitals there is a ratio of one doctor for every 25 patients. The ratio is as high as one to five in some Soviet psychiatric institutes, he adds.

The physician-patient ratio in U. S. mental hospitals is about one doctor for every 150 patients, he says.

Airman To Test Capsule In Icy Lake Erie

DUNKIRK, N. Y. (AP) — The Air Force will put an airman afloat for 72 hours on ice-rimmed Lake Erie near Buffalo starting today.

He'll be enclosed in an experimental capsule, designed to protect crew members forced to eject from high-speed aircraft. The capsule is planned for the supersonic B-58 Hustler.

One of two men from Wright-Patterson Air Force Base will fill the capsule. T-Sgt. Jimmy Graves of Harriman, Tex., and A-1 C. Bruce C. Barwise of Bovey, Minn., have been selected.

Industrial Cage Leaders Pull Away

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Bartlesville and Wichita, threatening to turn the National Industrial Basketball League race into a two-team affair, bump into each other this week.

Wichita (12-5) plays host to league-leading Bartlesville (13-5) Thursday night.

Meanwhile Cleveland, a surprising new entry in the league this year, embarks on its first big road trip of the season. Cleveland, third with a 9-4 record, will play eight games on the road in 12 days, starting with a game at Seattle Wednesday night.

Akron has slumped to a 9-9 record, for fourth place.

Georgia Tech Again Slaps Former Cage King, Kentucky

The Engineers of Georgia Tech are building their first championship season in Southeastern Conference basketball since 1938 by literally tearin' down the king, mighty Kentucky.

Faced with a "must game" against the challenging Wildcats at Atlanta Monday night, the Engineers not only beat Kentucky for the second time this season but handed the Wildcats their fourth worst whipping in 729 games under Adolph Rupp's 30-year coaching era, piling up a 65-44 rout to the roars of 7,348 fans.

Since Baron Rupp became the Kentucky coach in 1930 to build basketball's greatest record, only his 89-50 loss to CCNY in 1950, his 101-77 setback by Alabama in 1956 and his 41-20 beating from Notre Dame in 1956 have equaled or topped this one.

It was Tech's sixth straight SEC victory and 15th in 17 games while Kentucky, now 10-5 for the season, is 4-2 in the league it has dominated so long and down to third place, a step behind idle Tulane (3-1). Tech now ranked sixth nationally, beat Kentucky at Lexington 62-54 in their first meeting Jan. 2.

Strengthening Virginia Tech (12-2) won its eighth in a row, 107-77 over Furman, and Minnesota continued its surprising challenge in the Big Ten with a hot-shooting 87-72 rout of Iowa at Iowa City in other key games on the limited Monday schedule.

Touring Houston, which snapped

the 11-game win streak of Miami (Fla.) Saturday night, was the victim of an upset itself Monday night — blowing a 15-point half-time lead to fall before Loyola of New Orleans 63-61. John Flynn, who had 16 points, hit on his last six shots to trigger the Loyola rally.

Touring Oklahoma City also was spilled in Louisiana, losing to tough, little Centenary 65-58. On the West Coast, Stanford defeated Washington State 67-58 in overtime. Hardin-Simmons and North Texas State had a free-shooting wounding, with Hardin-Simmons winning 98-96 in overtime.

Afternoon Baseball Card Is Shrinking

CINCINNATI (AP) — Afternoon baseball, at least the weekday variety, will fade still further out of the picture in the National League this year.

The oldest of the two major leagues announced today a 1960 schedule which includes a record-breaking 312 night contests.

And that total includes games of the Chicago Cubs, the lone major league holdout against night baseball, who play all of their 77 home contests in the daytime.

Except on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, St. Louis and Philadelphia will not play any afternoon games. Cincinnati has only one game and Los Angeles and Pittsburgh two each.

As it shapes up, Los Angeles will play a record-breaking 64 night games, including two twilight dates. Philadelphia will have 52 night dates, St. Louis 48, Cincinnati 45, Pittsburgh 42, Milwaukee 38 and San Francisco 23.

Los Angeles will open the season at night April 12 against Chicago. Philadelphia's home opener April 14 against Milwaukee also will be played at night and so will St. Louis' home opener April 19 against Chicago.

The league's schedule this year will be spread over 174 days instead of the customary 167. The change was made to provide more time for travel to and from the West Coast.

Russian Doctor Supply Is High

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An Ohio State University psychiatrist says Russia has a high turnover of patients in its mental hospitals apparently because of a high ratio of doctors to patients.

Dr. Ralph M. Patterson, who recently completed a tour of European psychiatric hospitals, says that in Russian mental hospitals there is a ratio of one doctor for every 25 patients. The ratio is as high as one to five in some Soviet psychiatric institutes, he adds.

The physician - patient ratio in U. S. mental hospitals is about one doctor for every 150 patients, he says.

Airman To Test Capsule In Icy Lake Erie

DUNKIRK, N. Y. (AP) — The Air Force will put an airman afloat for 72 hours on ice-rimmed Lake Erie near Buffalo starting today.

He'll be enclosed in an experimental capsule, designed to protect crew members forced to eject from high-speed aircraft. The capsule is planned for the supersonic B-58 Hustler.

One of two men from Wright-Patterson Air Force Base will fill the capsule. T-Sgt. Jimmy Graves of Harrison, Tex., and A-1 C. Bruce C. Barwise of Bovey, Minn., have been selected.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Temperatures Monday afternoon were the highest in a week with readings up to 38 at Columbus and Dayton. Marietta reported a high of 37 and Cincinnati 40.

Cooler air pushed into the state again during the night and at sunrise temperatures were as low as 19 at Mansfield and Findlay. Columbus had a low of 28 and Toledo 23.

A low pressure area developing in the Midwest will bring cloudiness to Ohio tonight and Wednesday as well as the chance of snow north and rain or snow south.

Little change in temperature is forecast for tonight and Wednesday.

Youngstown Eyes Threat to Negro

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Police are investigating an apparent attempt to frighten a Negro family into moving from the formerly all-white neighborhood on the city's East Side to which they moved last month.

Rufus Gilliam, a steelworker, said a brick with a note tied to it was thrown through a living room window at his home shortly before midnight Sunday.

Police said the note, written on school-type note paper, read: "Niggers beware. Next time it will be worse." It was signed "KKK."

Ex-Football Coach Due To Help Train Redlegs

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds plan to hire another former football coach—Harry Connolly, who quit last summer as coach of Xavier University here—to direct physical conditioning at spring training. Connolly has headed Reds' scouting in New England since last summer.

Last spring, the Reds hired Terry Brennan, former Notre Dame football coach, to run the conditioning program.

Industrial Cage Leaders Pull Away

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Bartlesville and Wichita, threatening to turn the National Industrial Basketball League race into a two-team affair, bump into each other this week.

Wichita (12-5) plays host to league-leading Bartlesville (13-5) Thursday night. Meanwhile Cleveland, a surprising new entry in the league this year, embarks on its first big road trip of the season. Cleveland, third with a 9-4 record, will play eight games on the road in 12 days, starting with a game at Seattle Wednesday night.

Akron has slumped to a 9-9 record, for fourth place.

Covered Bridge Estimates Asked By Commissioners

The Pickaway County Commissioners yesterday instructed County Engineer Henry T. McCrady to estimate costs of moving the Crownover Mill Bridge.

McCrady is to estimate the cost of placing an abutment under the old covered bridge and the extra cost of moving the new bridge 100 feet up-stream.

Recently the County Historical Society asked the Commissioners to consider preserving Crownover Mill Bridge because of its historical significance.

Crownover bridge is one of two remaining covered bridges in the county. According to Historical Society officials, it occupies one of the loveliest sites in the area.

COMPLICATING matters is the approval, given by the Federal Government, to match funds to completely replace the bridge at an estimated cost of $100,000.

Another factor is that the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers is considering the bridge area as a site for a dam to be a part of the Scioto Conservancy District's plan for central and southern Ohio flood control.

The accused also was fined $25 and costs for intoxication and disorderly conduct. He was arrested by city police on this count.

Local Bus Driver's Record Is 68 World Trips Safely

By PAUL SMALLWOOD
Herald Staff Writer

Ray Goodman, 327 E. Franklin St., has driven the equivalent of 68 times around the world.

A bus driver for the Lake Shore System, Goodman has traveled almost two million miles. However, he hasn't circled the globe a single time.

His many miles of driving have been between Chillicothe and Columbus. He's a veteran driver with 30 years behind the wheel of a bus.

Simple arithmetic disclosed that Goodman has driven approximately 1,728,000 miles during his 30 years of duty. He figures that he drives 300 days per year and clips off 192 miles per day on two daily roundtrips from Chillicothe to Columbus.

RAY STARTED his career as a bus driver in 1929 with the old Valley Public System which traversed this area. The firm later came under direction of the Greyhound Lines and currently operates as the Lake Shore System.

Goodman is slated to receive a 25-year safe driving award from the National Safety Council. Actually he has 27 years of safe driving, but didn't get his first years on record because his company did not join the Safety Council until 1932.

The expert driver is married to the former Audrey M. Walker and has one daughter, Mrs. Warren Grover, 329 E. Franklin St. His pride and joy is his little granddaughter, Amy Lou.

Ray is a member of the First Methodist Church and president of the Pickaway County Horse Shoe Club. He serves as chairman and manager of all shoe tournaments at the County Fairs here.

Enthusiased with the horse shoe game, he was instrumental in a recent project which saw new pitching courts constructed at the Fairgrounds. They are rated among the best in this area.

The friendly driver has a birthday, apparently this month, but he cleverly evaded naming his exact age.

GOODMAN is proud of his safe driving achievement and is looking forward to receiving the National Safety Council recognition. Previous honors already presented include a new uniform and safety pins for each year of safe driving.

The local man said alertness is a main factor for safe driving. He explained that he tries to think at least 1 1/2 miles ahead while driving. "I have avoided what could have been serious accidents by following this practice," he said.

Goodman said the new four-lane Route 23 means a great highway improvement for himself and all motorists. The old highway presented a challenge, especially in winter, he noted.

Six days of driving marks Goodman's weekly schedule. He knows the road like the back of his hand and can describe about every foot of the span from Chillicothe to Columbus. His itinerary includes daily stops in Circleville, long enough for passenger changes and a brief chat with Norman Ritter at the bus station.

Rain or shine, sleet or snow, Ray diligently makes his daily trips. Occasionally, high water brings a break in the schedule. Overflowing rivers a year ago this month kept him off the highways for a couple of days.

The popular driver said biggest aims at present are to maintain his safe driving record and to promote greater horse shoe pitching interest here.

Omission

Dr. Paul Teegardin Jr., veterinarian at 1163 N. Court St., is a charter member of the Pickaway County Veterinary Medical Assn., which was organized last week. His name was omitted in The Herald's original listing.

VETERAN DRIVER — If his miles driven could be stretched out, Ray Goodman (above) would have circled the globe 68 times. A bus driver for the Lake Shore System, he has accumulated approximately 1,728,000 miles during 30 years of service. He drives two round trips daily between Chillicothe and Columbus six days a week. But Ike Says

Gates' remarks has been misinterpreted. Gates can be expected to clarify what he did say, Eisenhower added.

The United States, the President went on, has all the military power to destroy a good many countries, although it has no intention of using such power except in defense.

The whole business of military intelligence is very intricate and complex, Eisenhower said, and you can't take any one aspect of intelligence reports and come to definite conclusions.

As for Gates, Eisenhower praised him as a very splendid civil servant.

POLITICS—Eisenhower said he had no comment except laughter for Democratic attacks on Vice President Richard M. Nixon as a "juvenile delinquent."

His reaction was the same toward other Democratic criticisms of Nixon and the Eisenhower administration.

On another matter in the political field, Eisenhower said with a smile he had been advised it would be absolutely legal for him to serve as vice president after his term ends.

He was harking back to a question he himself raised, in a humorous way, at his last news conference. The Constitution now bars a third term for any president, but says nothing as to whether a former president could serve as vice president.

Later, Eisenhower said, someone put a note on his desk—he didn't know whether it was the attorney general — saying there would be no legal bar to his becoming vice president. And that note, Eisenhower chuckled, stopped it right there so far as he is concerned.
